Program dates: June 7 - June 26, 2010

Application deadline: February 19, 2010

Director: Susan Ouriou

The Banff International Literary Translation Centre is a three-week residency program offering literary translators an opportunity to focus on a current project, consult with experienced translators, network with colleagues in an international literary forum and, in some cases, spend time with the writer whose work they are translating. Financial assistance is available.
